Welcome to Wang Tong, a little village on an island in the South China Sea. No signs point there. Even the police can't find it. A place with no cars, but water buffalo traffic jams. A place where nothing seems to happen, yet which once might have been the capital of the known world.

Meet Ah-Po, the kindly old farmer and her toy animal execution ground. Meet Uncle Six the cat man, and Mr. Lam, who escaped a horrifying event on the beach during the war. Meet a variety of other villagers, wildlife, and even some unwelcome intruders.

In this deeply felt trove of true stories and snapshots, award-winning cartoonist and author Larry Feign invites you into the place he called his world for thirty-two years.

"Larry Feign is a Hong Kong treasure."

— Shonee Mirchandani, Director, Bookazine Hong Kong

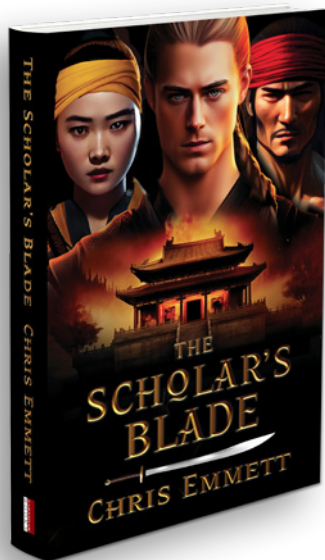

"Larry Feign paints a kaleidoscopic portrait of his rural home in Hong Kong that dazzles the imagination. With humor and empathy, this love letter to Wang Tong village will leave any reader wishing they lived there."

— Alec Ash, author of Wish Lanterns and The Mountains Are High

The captivating story of the Ryukyu Islands, located to the south of the main Japanese islands, covers the rise and fall of a maritime kingdom and its enduring legacy. The Ryukyus, which include Okinawa, have a rich and complex history which contains influences from a variety of cultures, including China, Japan and Southeast Asia and dates back over 30,000 years. Once a major trading power in the region, they maintained a complex relationship with both China and Japan before being annexed by the samurai of Japan in the late 19th century. Despite this, and the suffering endured during World War II, Ryukyu culture continues to thrive.

In addition to their natural and cultural treasures, the Ryukyu Islands also hold great strategic importance due to their location in the Pacific Ocean, playing a key role in regional and global politics for centuries, and they continue to do so today. This book reveals the fascinating history and enduring legacy of this unique and captivating region at the heart of East Asia.

SEARCHING FOR ZZ

Sun Huifen

ZZ is an anomaly in a world of power and money. His name is Zhang Zhan, which connotes 'stretching' and 'spreading of wings,' and his parents are fiercely ambitious minor party officials, climbing the lower rungs of what they see as a golden ladder to influence and success. ZZ is their only son and what they need was a perfect son, an aspiring and formidable prop, driven to climb the ladder himself and become a powerful official. But ZZ doesn't care. He is the misfit who rejects it all. They didn't ask about his thoughts, or care about his feelings and he will not set foot on that ladder, nor steady it for his parents. Instead, all he wants to do is tear it apart and burn it to ashes. He knows it has to be done and also knows it will never happen. There are ladders everywhere and people clamoring to climb them.

"This is a work of great significance it delves into the emotional relationships spanning the generations, and attempts to reconstruct a lost world of meaning and values for parents and their children."

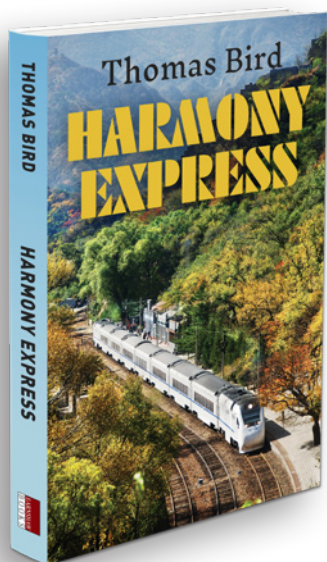

— Li jingzechinese writers association

The novel reflects a widespread social phenomenon—many people today pursuing soaring heights often inadvertently abandon their true selves and the "ancestral roots" of their families. How much does this intentional or unintentional 'avoidance' go against the natural laws of things, leading to significant loss? What is heartwarming is that this loss is rediscovered in this novel, embodied in Zhang Zhan.

— Review by the newspaper, Literature (weiyibao)

HARMONY EXPRESS

Thomas Bird

In 2014, Thomas Bird found himself in southern China, free from any serious commitments. His rock band had just split up, he'd left his job as the Shenzhen editor of a lifestyle magazine and his girlfriend disappeared from his life. Seeking the tonic of travel, Bird hit the railroad with a plan... to explore The People's Republic of China by train. The country was in the midst of a railway building boom the likes of which the world has never seen, and Bird was poised to make China Railways his muse. Travelling through the ancient heartlands to the national extremities, Bird puts the people he meets front and center, as he grapples to comprehend an inscrutable land undergoing breakneck change.

SHANGHAI DEMIMONDAINE

Nick Hordern

Shanghai in 1930s had a booming prostitution industry which gave the city a certain reputation across Asia. The young Australian Lorraine Murray was for several years one of its stars, but with the help of her businessman patron Edmund Toeg and the American author Emily Hahn – the 'China Coast Correspondent for the New Yorker' – Lorraine finally put the sex industry behind her and struck out on a new path. Against the backdrop of the Japanese onslaught on China, she went back to wartime Australia, where she dipped into the murky world of counter-intelligence, and then went on to post war England, where she was reunited with both Emily and Edmund. Shanghai Demimondaine is a story of how her friendship with Emily helped Lorraine turn her life around – and how the feisty writer mined their friendship for her bestselling books.

The images here take us from youth in London and tragedy in Mexico to many adventures in Asia, including several years documenting the Shanghai Tower with architect Marshall Strabala, malaria in Cambodia, and a cornucopia of images captured through Nicky's discerning lens.

EAST MEETS WEST

Zhou Yongping

Shanghai's Xintiandi is China's first world-class landmark urban entertainment and cultural destination and East Meets West tells the story of how it came into being, showing how urban renewal is not only about constructing architectural spaces but also about deciphering the history and evolution of local culture. Author Zhou Yongping was one of the team that made Xintiandi possible, successfully balancing the requirements of the city government, local residents, the Shui On property group, future tenants and the millions of people who have visited the area every year since it opened in 2001. In 2016, the American Forbes magazine selected 'Global Top 20 Cultural Landmarks,' and Shanghai Xintiandi was among them.

Earnshaw Books is a book publishing house founded in 2003 and based in Hong Kong, dedicated to publishing books on China and beyond that help to enrich the understanding of China's history and culture. It was founded by Graham Earnshaw, a businessman, writer and musician with several decades of experience in the China world. He is well-known for his deep perspective on Chinese affairs, having first visited the China mainland in 1978. Over the years, he has been to every province and region of the country and has a deep respect for Chinese history, language and traditional culture. He moved to Hong Kong in 1973, learned to speak Cantonese and to read Chinese and worked as a reporter on the South China Morning Post. In 1976, he joined Reuters News Agency and worked in the Hong Kong and London bureaus before being assigned in 1979 to Beijing. He served as Beijing Bureau chief for Reuters 1985-1987, Tokyo Chief Correspondent 1987-1989, and was the Reuters Asian Editor from 1990 to 1995, responsible for all reporting from Pakistan to New Zealand. He then set up his own company in Shanghai, SinoMedia Ltd.

He has written and published a number of books, including On Your Own in China (1984), Tales of Old Shanghai (2008) and an account of his continuing walk across China, The Great Walk of China (2010) and The Formosa Fraud (2017) about George Psalmanazar. His translation of the Jin Yong kung fu novel The Book and The Sword was published by Oxford University Press in 2004. His Chinese name, 晏格文, was chosen by Jin Yong (金庸). He set up China's first rock band in the early 1980s, and was the first foreign journalist to ever witness a sky burial in Tibet.

He has recorded a number of albums of his own songs, including Leap of Faith (1996), The Red Album (2011), and The Tao of Music (2013).

He speaks in public regularly, in English and in Chinese, on a variety of topics, including the Chinese economy and life in rural China. He has addressed MBA and other student classes at many of China's top universities, including Tsinghua, Fudan and Nanjing. He speaks Mandarin and Cantonese fluently and his English is said to be acceptable. His personal website is www.earnshaw.com. Email: graham@earnshaw.com
